DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 21-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lambertz et al #4,030,160. Lambertz et al disclose a corner bracket for a frame assembly comprised of body 1, orthogonal opposed legs 20 (1st), 21(2nd), an adjustable roller assembly having a roller housing 7, 10, which inherently form a guide there between, i.e., a track, located interior of the leg ends, a threaded member 11, which threadingly receives a threaded fastener 13 to adjust the position of the assembly relative to the track, a grooved roller element 8, roller housing groove 12, which matingly receives rib/protrusion 6, a body opening 14 through which the head of the fastener protrudes, and aperture 23 through which the roller protrudes.

Claims 13, 14, 16, 18, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Burum #3,729,868. Burum discloses a corner bracket assembly comprised of a roller assembly 56, 62, 74, a cavity 58 defined by housing sides 46, 48, 18 (track), which inherently form a guide there between, i.e., a track, and are attached by means of rivets and other types of fasteners/pins as disclosed in column 3, lines 46-55, the fasteners received within bores/receiving pockets of bosses 50, a cutout 54 that allows movement of the roller assembly there through, a threaded fastener 68, which is received in threaded nut 70 to adjust the position of the assembly relative to the track, orthogonal legs 30, 32, which are received within frames 12 and 14 of panel member 8.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-12 are allowed.

Claims 15, 17, 19, and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon base claim 13, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of claim 13, and any intervening claims. The primary reason for the allowable subject matter of claim 15 is the inclusion of a track having guide members on the roller housing and housing pieces matingly received within grooves on either the roller housing and housing pieces the roller housing and housing pieces. For claim 19 it is the inclusion of the second housing piece having a pair of opposed notches and pair of channel walls, the notches combining with the first housing piece to define recesses within the cavity. The prior art of record fails to teach or suggest the claimed features absent the applicants' own disclosure.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed in the Amendment of November 21, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant's suggestion that no track per se exists in either reference is without merit. Further, the applicant has not adequately defined what constitutes movement along a track. If there is some particular movement of the assembly, whether it be vertical or horizontal, or angular, then that movement or associated structure should be recited in the independent claims. (Note the allowable subject matter of claim 15).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

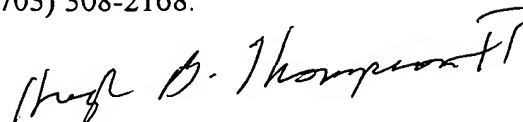

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
